A Queer Story From Russia.

A very curious story has just come to hand recalling in one's mind the tale of the false Dmitrius and other similar impostures which have passed into Russian history. A certain Siberian merchant named Kramoff recently arrived in St. Petersburg and asked to be allowed to deliver an important packet of letters personally into the hands of the Czar. He said that the packet had been confided to him by an old man who had died in his (Kramoff's) house in Tomsk, in the year 1864, with the request that it should be given into the Emperor's own hands. The mysterious person, age, moreover, had expired with the firm impression that he was Alexander I., who, Russian history says, died in a humble cottage at Tuganrog of erysipelas in December, 1825, while on a tour of inspection. Although at first laughed at, it is said that he was at last admitted to the Czar and delivered the packet, which was found to contain important documents concerning the Imperial family. How they came into the possession of the mysterious deceased the bearer had never been able to discover.—London Times.

Two Extravagant Texas Siftings.

Rev. Amindab Bledsoe, of the Austin Blue-Light Tabernacle, met Sam Webster yesterday and asked how he was off for firewood. "I reckon," said Sam, "I've got about five cords." "Dat's gwine ter last yer plum fru de winter," said Bledsoe, who wanted to borrow some fuel. "No it won't, parson, for de white gemman in whose yard dat wood burns it up jess as if hit didn't cost him a cent."

She Deserved It. A leading merchant of Louisville refused to buy a seal skin asque for his daughter. The next day she left the house, and when night came she did not return. For two weeks all efforts to discover her were unavailing, but the detectives employed in the case at length learned that she was employed as a domestic servant, under an assumed name. She refused to return home until her parent promised to get her the asque.

It is useless for physicians to argue against short-sleeved dresses. The Constitution of the United States says: "The right to bear arms shall not be interfered with." Several Exchanges. This brilliant remark is all that is left of — is the last and relic of — the following gastrin, which was published in the New York World about eight years ago: Why should the herald scold at a body's pride, And his armorial bearing assest at lightly? Why shouldn't he bear knighly arms? — his bride In best society bears her arms nightly.

Sir Thomas Gladstone, the English Prime Minister's eldest brother, has returned twenty per cent. of this year's rents to his tenants, and has promised a remission of ten per cent. next year, whether the crop be good or bad.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to Evening Gazette.
EASTERN.
Washington, December 22.
 Guiteau came into court this morning apparently laboring under some strong excitement, and Charles Reed took a seat by his side and whispered something to him. Guiteau (striking the table) began to expostulate, saying: "I won't do anything of the kind."
 At this point Scoville whispered some expostulation, when Guiteau angrily said to him: "I won't have you compromising my case by your foolish question. You must get off my case if you can't stop compromising it."
 A whispered conversation between the three mentioned seemed to result in pacifying the prisoner, who looked up with a smile and said:
 "I was going to make a speech, but have changed my mind, and I guess I won't do it." He then bowed himself with opening his mail, remarking: "This is the first time I have opened my mail myself for some time."
 Dr. Theodore Diamond of New York, who had been summoned for the defense, and retained by the prosecution, was here called to the stand. The witness believed, judging by the evidence he had listened to, including that of the prisoner himself, and from the appearance and conduct of the prisoner, that he is a sane man. The hypothetical questions put to Dr. Woster yesterday were then read to the witness and he replied: "I should say he was sane."
 Scoville asked how old a physician ought to be before he could distinguish between a sane and an insane man. The Doctor said he himself was not yet old enough to so distinguish.

Guiteau broke in with a compliment to the witness, and called the attention of the audience to the fact that he was letting Scoville talk to-day. He said (holding up twenty or more letters), "I opened my mail this morning, pretty good mail, too, and only one crank letter in the whole lot; all from high-toned people, too. They are beginning to think better of me outside. High-toned ladies asking for my autograph. They think I'm a big man, but I don't care a snap whether I am big or not."

Abortion and Murder.
Washington, December 22.
 Dr. Hugh Nelson, of Baltimore, was arrested here last night by a private detective and is now in jail. The charge of abortion and murder are lodged against him. The alleged victim being a young lady of high connections from Savannah, Georgia, who died in a Baltimore hotel a few weeks ago. Dr. Nelson says he has been involved in this unpleasant affair in Baltimore, but denied any connection with it. He says that blackmail is at the bottom of his arrest.

Noted Arrivals.
New York, December 22.
 The Consul General from China to Cuba and the Chinese Consul at Matanzas were among the passengers who arrived on the steamship City of Washington from Havana yesterday. They are on their way to Washington to pay their respects to the Chinese Minister, who will return to China upon the arrival of his successor, and he is expected within a few days. Consul General and Consul will remain here until the arrival of the new Chinese Minister and will then return to their posts of duty.

New York Objects.
New York, December 22.
 A World's Washington special says: It will be observed that Pennsylvania has three members of the Ways and Means Committee and New York none. The current comment upon this fact is unfavorable, but the architecture of the Committee on Commerce is still more peculiar, the chairmanship going to the Pacific coast in the person of Page of California. The Empire State is high without any representation.

Whisky, Murder and Suicide.
COLUMBUS, O., December 22.
 Kirshard Steitzer, a German cooper, yesterday afternoon shot and killed his wife, and then shot himself in his own house. Whisky was the cause.

Collins Safe.
New York, December 22.
 Mr. George F. Williams, of the editorial staff of the Herald, says Jerome E. Collins, a chief of the Herald staff with the Jeannette expedition, is safe.

Buller Explosion.
TOLEDO, Ohio, December 22.
 The boiler of Taylor's flowering mill exploded to-day, killing engineer Mannatt.

The Jeannette.
New York, December 22.
 A Herald's London cable says: The following telegram was received at the London office at twenty minutes past two this morning:
 JAKUTSK, Dec. 21.—The Jeannette

was crushed by ice in latitude 77, 15 degrees north, longitude 157 degrees east. Boats and sleds made good retreat to 50, 70 and north-west of the Lena river, where the three boats were separated in a gale. The whale boat, in charge of chief engineer Melville, entered the east mouth of the Lena river September 17th. It was stopped by ice in the river. We found a native village, and as soon as the river closed I put myself in communication with the command at Bolongma on October 29th. I heard that the first cutter carrying Lieutenant DeLong, Dr. Ambler and twelve others had landed at the north mouth of the Lena river. The command at Bolongma sent instructions to the whale boat party, who are all well. Ninedema and Noras arrived at Bolongma on October 29th, for relief for the first cutter, of all whom are in a sad condition and in danger of starvation and all badly frozen. The commandant at Bolongma sent scouts to look for them, and will urge a vigorous search for them until they are found. The second cutter has not yet been heard from. He telegraphed money for instant use to Irkutsk and Jakutsk. The list of the people in the boats is as follows: First cutter—Lieutenant De Long, Dr. Ambler, Jerome J. Collins, Wm. Ninedema, Louis Noras, Hans Erickson, Henry Knack, Adolph Bressler, Carl Gortz, Walter Lee, Neils Ivanov, George Boyd, and Alex. Alborn. Whale boat—Engineer Melville, Lieutenant Danenhaver, Jack Cole, James Bartlett, Raymond Newcombe, Herbert Leach, George L. Landentach, Henry Willson, Manson Anequin. Second cutter—Lieutenant Chipp, Carl Dunbar, Alfred Sweetman, Henry Waxen, Peter Johnson, Edward Star, Shawell, Albert Karhum. The first cutter and two boats are safe.

California on Deck.
New York, December 22.
 A Herald Washington special says: New York gets six chairmanships but only one of them is of the least consequence—that on appropriations. Ohio gets five, of which Patents is the only important one. Wisconsin gets three important ones, Public Lands, Foreign Affairs and Pacific railroads. California, with only two representatives, gets two chairmanships, both of a kind often sought after—Commerce and Private Land. These are specimens of Keifer's committee appointments, and to understand them in part it is necessary to understand that Robeson was the best friend Keifer had in caucus. Pennsylvanians members went over to him in a body, which insured his nomination, and the Wisconsin and California members were his earliest and most staunch adherents.

Good News.
WASHINGTON, December 22.
 T. W. W. Danenlaue, of this city, has received a telegram from his son, Master John W. Danenlaue, first officer of the wrecked Arctic exploring steamer Jeannette, announcing his arrival at the mouth of the Lena river. The dispatch was probably sent up the Lena to Irkutsk by the messenger who brought the first news of the loss of the Jeannette, and has just been forwarded by the Governor-General of Eastern Siberia. Master Danenlaue, as the Jeannette's third officer, would have command of boat No. 3, which was first to reach the mouth of the Lena. Boat No. 1 was under command of Lieutenant De Long, and No. 2, which is the missing boat, was likely commanded by the Jeannette's second officer, Lieutenant Chipp. Lieutenant Danenlaue's telegram gives no particulars of the disaster, but says a letter has been forwarded by the way of St. Petersburg.

Still Another.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, December 22.
 Fred W. Newburgh, Assistant Secretary of the State Board of Public Works, was arrested to-day for raising checks to the amount of four thousand dollars. He confessed to that amount, but large forgeries are suspected.

Leigh Smith Heard From.
LONDON, December 22.
 The Times says: Information has been received from Tromsø, Norway, which augurs well for the success of Leigh Smith's voyage. The Captain of a Norwegian whaler, reports that July 3d he saw the Era, steaming southward, having seen the same vessel before on June 30, at Malaitshken straits at the edge of the ice.

Speakership Debat.
New York, December 22.
 One prominent Western member remarked to-day rather bitterly, that Page of California, who obtained the Chairmanship, and Hazellon and Pound of Wisconsin, who were conspicuously favored, should be credited to General Keifer's speakership debts, and not counted as a representative of the west.

FOREIGN.
Paris, December 22.
 A St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs that the Governor-General of Eastern Siberia, who happens to be at present in St. Petersburg, having received information of the arrival of the shipwrecked crew of the Jeannette in the region under his command, immediately proceeded to Gatchina and saw the Emperor, who personally ordered that all supplies that were necessary, for food, clothing, money and transportation should be placed at their disposal.

AN Alliance between Germany and Turkey Decried.
Berlin, December 22.
 It is semi-officially declared that the statement regarding the alliance between Germany and Turkey is incorrect, and circulated for the purpose of creating distrust at St. Petersburg.

Dewey & Co.'s Scientific Press Patent Agency has received official notice of the issue of the following patents to the Pacific coast inventors for the week ending November 6, 1881: Thos. Burnett, Eureka, Cal., brooch-loading fire-arm; Geo. Caseres, Fresno, Cal., lifting-jack; Aaron Evans and J. Draper, St. John, Cal., cultivator; Chas. W. Eames, Shasta, Cal., tire splitter; Isaac Lepley and W. H. Hepburn, Amador, Cal., grinding and amalgamating pan; D. R. Lynch, Grass Valley, Cal., fire extinguishing apparatus; E. J. Maybridge, S. F., photographic apparatus; H. P. Parsons, S. F., rock drill; J. C. Washie, Sacramento, Cal., safety stirrup.

The Mutual Ice Company, at Essex, has seven-inch ice. When it gets ten inches they will put up 4,000 tons, and perhaps bank up a few thousand tons outside the house. The People's Ice Co., at Cuba, is putting up the second crop of fourteen-inch ice. It is very fine. The Boon Company is working night and day, and the big cakes floating down the ditch under the railroad track and being carried up the elevators to the house, form a pretty sight. The same company is selling 1,600 tons to the railroad company, who ship it now, during the cold weather, to their storehouses all over Nevada, California, Arizona, and clear to Texas. All is reported favorable at Prosser creek.

The railroad company has erected a very fine coal shed at Essex, two miles above Verdi. It has a corrugated iron roof and open ends and sides. Three tracks run through it, two for cars and one for a derrick, set on a small car to swing the immense iron buckets over the tenders. There are sixteen buckets, and they hold a thousand pounds each. The locomotives take an average of 5,000 pounds of coal at a time or a quarter of a carload. Charles Sberburn is in charge of the place.

A heavy shipment of high-grade ore was received in this city yesterday, says the Salt Lake Tribune, from the Belrus mine, Idaho. It had to be high grade, for no other kind is found in the property. A letter was also received, saying that new developments on the Overland were making the owners glad. Wood River is coming out slowly, but there seems to be no doubt that within another year it will be established as one of the richest mining regions in all this world.

The shortest day Yesterday was the shortest day of the year. At 11:04 A. M. the sun reached the winter solstice, or that point in the ecliptic at which it is furthest south from the equator. The sun enters the solstices or solstitial points about the 21st of June and the 21st of December.

Letters addressed to the Nevada State Mill Company and S. A. Temple Reno, are held in the Virginia Post-office for the want of a three-cent stamp. Also one addressed to Mrs. Batterman, San Leandro, Cal.

James Rowe, the miner who lost both arms and his eyesight by a blasting accident at the Forman shaft, continues to improve at the Storey county hospital.

FLINT, Mich., June 26, 1881. H. H. WARNER & Co.: Sirs—I am 72 years old, and have not felt so well in 20 years as I am to-day. Thanks to your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, the best remedy in the world.

Reno Chapter, No. 7, R. A. M. will meet this evening for the purpose of conferring the R. A. degree. Companions are requested to be on hand. Quite a delegation from Carson will be present.

The Appeal says M. M. Yerington's illness has assumed quite a serious phase. On Monday night he was delirious and on Tuesday he had a high fever.

Those ladies' and childrens' silk caps for 75 cents each at F. Levy & Bro., are all the rage.

A new lot of Russia leather goods at Naby's bazaar. Thermometer, at 7, 9, 11, 1, 3, 16, 22, 34, 36, 39.

F. Levy & Bro. live up to what they advertise, and that accounts for their doing the leading business.

And still they come. Another lot of holiday goods, ornamental as well as useful, just received at F. Levy & Bro's.

Received to-day at E. A. Allen's, elegant papeterie, meerschaum pipes, albums and books at greatly reduced rates.

The box sheet is now open for the play of "Twist Loves," and reserved seats can be obtained at the Post-Office.

Beats everything how cheap F. Levy & Bro sell their goods this week, and the ladies are not slow in taking advantage of it.

Heah, you! Juliana Phoebeana Constantina Brown, if you don't keep still your crying I shan't buy you one of them dolls that I. Barnett has.

All persons having claims against the N. & O. railroad or contractor Moore, for material furnished or labor, will present them on or before December 31st. See notice.

The young people of Huffaker's Station will give a dramatic entertainment and dance at Everett's hall, Monday evening, December 26th, Everybody invited.

A severe accident lately to a star performer had a far happier termination than was expected. The wife of W. H. Stowe, manager of Dan Rice's Great Show, was terribly injured by being thrown from her horse at Cadiz, Ohio. St. Jacobs Oil was used and cured her in four days.

The contractors of the Asylum are doing everything that is possible to be done to get the building ready to turn over to the State on the 24th day of next month. They keep up fires and heat the plaster, so the men can work, and have every man there that can be used. They will be already, unless it may be a little painting left unfinished.

Persons. Only a few more of those elegant silk suspenders left at F. Levy & Bro's.

John F. Alexander and wife are registered at the Baldwin hotel, San Francisco.

L. N. Breed was here yesterday.

James Holbrook, Wadsworth, is in town to-day.

Richard Rising, Judge of the First Judicial District Court, and wife, will spend the holidays in San Francisco. They are registered at the Palace.

Another Fly Boy. The Eureka Leader says: Last Thursday evening, about 12 o'clock, Frank Belmont entered the Eureka stable while all the employees were asleep and took possession of a horse and saddle. He rode the animal to Alpha, where he boarded the train and left for parts unknown. The horse was not injured, but it was rather a summary manner of taking a ride. Belmont, we understand, carried away with him about $1,000 belonging to his partner, Mr. McDonald, besides several valuable articles belonging to other parties. Pass him along.

What are You Going to Do? What conclusion have the trustees of the fire department come to about reorganizing the company. The GAZETTE hopes to see a move made before the town is again destroyed. If property holders do not take interest enough, are not public spirited enough to put their shoulders to the wheel, and assist in this work, it is poor encouragement for members of the fire department.

Police Court. Judge Young says the Police Court is a poor place to look for items, that he has not made a dent for four days. Constable Avery seems to be busy, however, most of his time. Avery is fast falling into the habit of older and more experienced men in his line of business, that of looking wise and saying nothing.

A Tender Stomach.

Anna Foley, an applicant for admission to the almshouse, says the S. F. Examiner, was waiting the coming of the house carriage, on Monday afternoon, in one of the back rooms of the Health Office, when she saw on a shelf in the room, a twelve-ounce bottle of what she thought was gin. Anna had a weakness for gin, and she just quietly poured the contents of the bottle down her throat. It was not gin. It was sulphuric acid. The result was almost instantaneous and electrical, the unfortunate creature falling to the floor and writhing in agonies of pain. Secretary Hooch heard her cries, and, divining the cause, poured all the magnesia he could lay his hands on after the acid. Mrs. Foley vomited freely and felt partially relieved. Up to late Tuesday evening it was thought she might possibly recover, but at 9:30 P. M. she died very suddenly.

The Gun and Game. Efforts are being made by sportsmen in Massachusetts to increase the feathered game in the western portion of that State. Large quantities of wild rice have been planted, wild celery has been placed in the rivers and ponds for ducks to feed upon. If the local sportsmen of Reno would take a little interest in the matter, much could be done here to preserve and protect wild game. One thousand pounds of wild rice and wild celery planted in the sloughs on the meadows would grow an abundance of food for ducks and snipe. It would thrive well too, for the climate is well adapted to wild rice. It would not be a bad idea to send out to the eastern part of the state and get five or six dozen prairie chickens and turn them loose some where on the meadows. The farmers are turning their attention more to grain now than hay, and the stubble would make plenty of feed for them. Think it over.

Teacher vs. Parents. The Carson Tribune published an article a few days since denouncing Miss Mary Kelly, a school teacher in the Carson public school, as being brutal in her treatment of the children and demanding her expulsion. The GAZETTE took occasion to remark that possibly the Tribune man may have been mistaken—that there was generally two sides to a story. It seems that the GAZETTE was right, for the school trustees selected a committee of seven citizens to take testimony and judge of the alleged unreasonable punishment. The committee, after a very thorough investigation into the facts of the case, entirely exonerate Miss Kelly from any charge of undue severity in the punishment of any child in her school.

Two Indians Shot. Grass Valley Union. At the Indian campdoo, near Nevada City, a white man shot two Indians on Monday night, and it is reported that they are likely to die. Without knowing the circumstances it is a safe guess that the white man had no business at the campdoo, and that he was the aggressor in the quarrel that led to the shooting.

Choice Holiday Goods. Osburn & Shoemaker, always to the front, have the finest display of holiday goods in the State. Husbands, wives, lovers and ladies can find everything to suit the most fastidious, either in fancy, ornamental or useful articles. They are selling off rapidly. Another lot of those beautiful Christmas cards received to-day.

A Beautiful Gift. The bouquets of natural flowers presented to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were from the Washoe and Arlington Nurseries. The four bouquets, besides a lot of cut flowers, have been photographed by Dunham, and make a beautiful picture. R. P. M. Kelly feels proud of his Nevada production, and he has a right to.

Henry George. If Henry George, the political economist, had not been well dressed, Gladstone would have had him in a boiler-room tank long ago. He, like all great men, buys his clothing at the White House.

The Best Christmas Present For your wife or lady love is one of the superb sewing machines sold by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Church Social. The Congregational Church will hold a social for the benefit of their Sunday-school Christmas tree, this evening, at the residence of Donald McKay. A cordial invitation to all.

Coals to New Castle. Verdi is shipping evergreen Christmas trees to Truckee.

RICH AND RARE.

IN SELECTING JEWELRY, IT IS ALL

Important that the articles chosen be of the latest styles and neatest designs; and so we would advise all who contemplate making gifts in that line during the holidays, to call at WM. GOEGGEL'S store and see the new and beautiful selections recently received by him. The magnificent display of solid gold jewelry, set with precious stones, and of silver-ware, together with the attractive line of rolled-plate goods, at prices to suit the purses of all, is conclusive evidence of his excellent taste and determination to afford all Renoites an opportunity to purchase the finest articles at home, at reasonable prices. Indeed, his facilities are such as to place him in advance of all dealers in his line, and to enable him to sell for less than anyone else in Reno.
